Prague

The capital city of the Czech Republic

Location

- Prague is the capital and largest city in the Czech Republic. It is located in central Bohemia, the western half of the country, on the both banks of the Vltava river. About 1.2 million people live here and they come from all over the Czech Republic, as well as abroad.

History

- There are also many educational institutions, including Charles university (founded by King Charles IV. )
- Prague's history goes back 11 centuries. In the past, it used to be the seat of Czech kings and for some time even the capital of the Holy Roman Empire. Today it is still an important political, cultural and economic centre. There are many international companies, the government and the parliament as well as many tourist attractions.

Places of interest

- Prague is known for its beautiful architecture with many various styles such as Gothic, Baroque, Art Nouveau, Cubism and more, can all be found here. The seat of the Czech president is located in Prague Castle, the largest castle complex in the world, according the Guinness Book of World Records.

Monuments

- Also at Prague Castle is one of the country's famous important churches, St. Vitus Cathedral, which holds the nation's crown jewels. The Czech national cemetery, where many of the country's most important figures are buried, is at Vyšehrad.

Tourist attractions

- Other popular tourist attractions include Charles Bridge, the Old Town Square and the Astronomical Clock, The Lesser Quarter with its narrow streets, Wenceslas square, and the Jewish Quarter with its old cemetery and synagogues.

Cultural institutions

- The Dancing House, built in the 1990's, is a fine example of modern architecture. The city is very cultural. Some of the most important institutions for theatre, ballet and opera include The National Theatre, The State Opera House and the Estate Theatre. There are also many museums such as the National Museum, the Czech Museum of Music, The Mucha Museum and the Jewish museum.

Transportation

- You can get around the city using the dense network of public transport including the underground (metro), buses, trams and even funicular railway going up to Petřín hill.
