Problems of today

It is a serious health problem that more and more teenagers have taken up smoking. Even though these teens are aware that they will probably someday develop health problems like cancer, heart disease, and other respiratory problems, they still smoke anyway. Most teenagers start smoking in order to look cool in front of their friends but unfortunately they become addicted.

Drug use in the world is increasing and more young people than ever are addicted. Drugs can be divided into 4 categories: hard, soft and legal and illegal. Hard and soft drugs can cause addiction, illness, or even death. Hard drugs include heroin and cocaine. Drugs like marijuana, hashish, and solvents are considered soft drugs. Legal drugs include tobacco, alcohol, prescription and non-prescription medicines.

Prevention is better than cure. Primary prevention means that specialist go to the basic school and have lectures, In the case of secondary prevention children are sent to sanatorium to be healed. Tertiary prevention is called Harm reduction. It means that people do not want to stop taking drugs but society saves itself because state give people substances such as Subutex or Metadon. The reason is to reduce criminality and spreading illnesses.
